

AUGUST 20, 2018

Here we are starting Ready Week, just one more week to go before the Fall 2018 semester starts on Monday, August 27. We certainly hope that you have secured your Fall classes and are preparing for a great semester. We know that you may still have questions about the enrollment process, your SIS account, pre-requisites, financial aid, and where your classes are located. Do not hesitate to ask us. We will try to get you answers as soon as possible. You can always start with the Bridges to Success Center in Mariposa Hall Room, 105. You can also e-mail the Bridges office at bridges@lattc.edu.

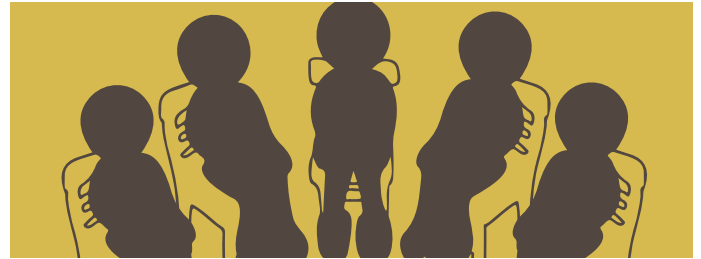

READY WEEK

Don't forget we are offering more orientations, and you can sign up at the Bridges office. Start off your college career fully prepared. Our orientation can give you information about all of our resources and student services.
