

OCTOBER 22, 2018

GOOD MONDAY MORNING

I hope you had a great week while I was in Europe speaking with our partners in Germany, build workforce relationships that could lead to enhanced transportation training for our students. I'm back and ready to further the work in creating new opportunities for our students.

Financial Aid

The Financial Aid Office is giving away pop sockets for students who complete a FAFSA at the Friday Financial Aid workshops. Don't wait to submit your FAFSA. Get help today in the Financial Aid Resource Center in Juniper Hall/ST-314. Remember the deadline to submit appeals for Financial Aid is November 2, 2018.

SAP Workshop

Wednesday, October 24, 2018, Aspen Hall/TE-120, 2:20 p.m.–5:00 p.m.

Financial Aid Fridays Workshop

Friday, October 26, Juniper Hall, ST-314, 9:30–11:30 a.m.

Details: Financial Aid Fridays Workshops

You must sign up on college.lattc.edu/financialaid. Don't wait, there will only be one more workshop before the November 2 deadline.

University Transfer Day

Monday, October 22, 10:00 a.m.–1:00 p.m., East side of Mariposa Hall

For some of you, your educational journey is moving toward transfer to a four-year university. Today is your opportunity to visit with representatives of some of the schools available to you. We are holding the Fall Transfer Fair today outside Mariposa Hall with nearly 30 universities available to speak with you about transfer to their campuses. If you have any questions about moving on to a university, take the time to stop by the tables and ask questions.

University Transfer Center: Juniper Hall/ST203, 213.763.7154

Movie Night

Pet Sematary*, Monday, October 22, 4:00 p.m., TE101

Later today the Performing Arts Club is sponsoring a movie night in TE101. To get you in the Halloween mood, the students are screening the movie "Pet Sematary". It's the 1989 classic based on a book by Stephen King. Come on out today at 4:00 p.m. and enjoy a horror classic. Not only enjoy the movie, but students can also win a tablet or a backpack in an opportunity drawing if they attend.

STEM Club Event

Tuesday, October 23, 6:00–10:00 p.m.

Our STEM Club has put together an interesting event for this Tuesday. Club members plan to set up a high-powered telescope on the roof of the Olive Street Parking structure so they can do some stargazing. Join your classmates and learn more about our galaxy.

St. Francis Food Pantry

Tuesday, 10:30 a.m., In the K-Mall

As always this Tuesday, our St. Francis Food Pantry event will be taking place at 10:30 a.m. in the K-Mall. If you have your student ID, you can access free food items, fresh produce and drinks. Come on out and grab some items.

Annual Think STEAM Expo

Thursday, October 25, From 9:00 a.m.

This Thursday is the National College Resource Foundation holds its annual Think STEAM conference in the North Quad grass. It's the fourth straight year that it has been on our campus. More than 500 high school and middle school students will be joining in the event as well. Both companies and agencies offering education and opportunities in science, technology, engineering, arts and math will be available to talk about career paths and the latest in those areas. Visit the event and talk with professionals about STEAM careers. Details: STEAM Expo Los Angeles

Disability Awareness Day

Thursday, October 25

Disability Awareness Day is this Thursday on our campus. There will be some booths in the South Tent between 9:00 a.m. and noon. The highlight will be a panel in TE101 where three students will talk about their experiences on the LATTC campus, as disabled students. The panel discussion will start at 10:00am. Stop by and listen to these great stories. Click Disability Awareness Day and Invitation for details.

It's good to be back with you on campus, with so much going on. Keep working hard in your classes and take advantage of all of the services we offer.

Have a great week.

Larry Frank

President, L. A. Trade-Technical College