

SYLLABUS FOR LEARNING SKILLS 2A - SECTION 1284

Writing - Beginning (1 Unit CR/NCR; Repeatable 3 Times)

Fall 2008: September 15, 2008-December 21, 2008 (14 Weeks)

Instructor: Dr. Ayesha Randall

Course Information:

Laboratory ("Lab")

Days: TBA ("To Be Announced" or "To Be Arranged") *

Time Required for Lab: 3.30 hours (3 hours and approximately 18 minutes) each week

Room Number: C-102

Notes: One (1) hour per week in the Instructional Resources Lab (IRL) is strongly encouraged. The IRL is located in C-106.

*TBA means "To Be Announced" or "To Be Arranged." This is a commonly-used abbreviation often used when a lab time is required, but the time can be arranged based on the student's schedule. Therefore, the time and days of each class will be different for each student. The student will meet with an instructor and choose days that are convenient to his or her schedule. TBA may also be used to indicate that a room or other information is not available at the time of scheduling. Check with an instructor or counselor for more current information.

Instructor's Information:

Instructor: Dr. Ayesha Randall

Telephone Number: (213) 763-3738

E-mail: randalla@lattc.edu

Office Hours: Tuesday 1:15 p.m.-5:40 p.m.

Course Description:

This course covers standard English writing conventions and language structure including grammar, punctuation, capitalization, spelling mechanics and sentence structure. Students learn how to write simple, compound, and complex sentences.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Recognize and use standard English conventions appropriate to their level.
2. Produce work that shows an understanding of spelling, punctuation, and capitalization rules.
3. Use grammar, diction, and sentence structure to demonstrate an understanding of English usage.
4. Recognize and correct grammatical errors in sentence structure, subject-verb agreement, spelling and punctuation.
5. Write simple, compound, and complex sentences.

Textbooks Required for the Course:

The textbooks required for the course is Exercising Your English Book 1 and Exercising Your English Book 2. If you are not able to buy a book, you may check out a book from the IRL in C-106.

Supplies Recommended:

Having the appropriate school supplies helps to prepare and motivate you for a productive school year. Scratch paper and pencils are available in the Learning Skills Lab.

1. Yellow highlighter (for emphasizing important rules, notes, and/or information during reading)
2. Notebook paper (Scratch paper is available in the Learning Skills Lab)
3. Pencils and colored ink pens (in addition to blue and/or black, for correcting your work)
4. One flash/thumb drive to save your work for upload to an e-portfolio
5. A three-ring binder and dividers or a folder with two inside pockets
6. Earphones (you may borrow them from the Learning Skills Lab, but it is best to purchase your own)
7. Standard English Dictionary (there are loaner dictionaries in the Learning Skills Lab, but it is best to purchase your own)

Class Format:

This is a laboratory (also known as the “lab”) class, where useful learning and demonstration take place. A lab class is hands-on and practical. During the lab class, students will be provided with individual tasks designed for practice and mastery of concepts and strategies. The lab assignments may include work from computer-assisted instruction (also known as CAI), books, tapes, and/or workbooks that may cover a variety of skills and levels. Additional lab assignment may be completed on campus (Learning Skills Computer Lab or Instructional Resources Lab (IRL), online, or off-campus). If the lab does not automatically provide a report of hours, students must manually log the hours they complete. When this is applicable, the instructor will give further details.

This class is offered in an open entry, open exit (OE/OE), self-paced format. This is an alternative course designed for students who can master course material without traditional classroom instruction or who may benefit individualized instruction. There are no traditional lectures, or in some cases regularly scheduled classes, so students may complete the course at their own pace—in several weeks, a month, or a semester. These flexible courses are designed to help students become more disciplined and motivated and allow great control over their learning schedules.

Everyone learns at a different rate. What takes one person only an hour to learn may take another up to six hours. Students with a clear grasp of a concept can move quickly through the learning activities. However, if they need more instruction, they may choose to answer additional questions, repeat activities, and/or consult with their instructor.

Students can register later or earlier than the official registration period and, in consultation with the instructor, choose an entry and exit date. Although there are no specific meeting times for this type of course, students must meet with the instructor at least once a week. This schedule will be mutually agreed upon by the student and instructor. Instructors' hours will be posted in the lab. These classes are not distance learning or campus-free—students are required to spend time working in the Computer Lab and in the Instructional Resources Lab.

Attendance:

The student is expected to attend every meeting of all classes for which they are registered. Once a schedule has been mutually agreed upon between the instructor and student, the student must satisfy a weekly schedule to do their work and meet with their instructor(s). To avoid being dropped from class, students should contact the instructor when they are absent for emergency reasons. Though students may be absent from a class, an absence does not relieve the student of the responsibilities of the class.

Students who are pre-registered in a class and miss the first meeting may lose their right to a place in the class, but the instructor may consider special circumstances. Whenever students are absent more hours than the number of hours the class meets per week, the instructor may drop them from class. In addition, the instructor will consider whether there are mitigating circumstances which may justify the absences. If the instructor determines that such circumstances do not exist, the instructor may exclude a student from the class.

If a student stops attending classes or withdraws from school, proper notification must be given to the admissions office and instructor. Students are responsible for dropping a class that they stop attending. If the class is not dropped, the student may receive a grade of "No Credit" for the class. Excessive unexcused absences or tardies may result in exclusion from the class.

Important Procedures and Etiquette for all Learning Skills Labs:

- Keep your voices low while working in the lab. The lab is a classroom.
- Refrain from eating or drinking in the lab.
- Silence or place your cell phones and pagers on vibrate. If asked by an instructor or staff member to turn off your cell phone or use it outside, please follow the given instructions.
- Do not bring visitors (of any age) to the lab.
- Put the help cone on top of your computer if you need technical or computer assistance.
- Go to an instructor for help if you have questions or need assistance with your work.
- Refer to the Computer Lab User Agreement that is kept in your folder for additional information.

Learning Skills Computer Lab Hours:

Americans with Disabilities Act:

Students with disabilities who need any assistance or accommodations should contact the instructor within the first two weeks of class. If you believe that you may need accommodations in this class, you are encouraged to contact Disabled Student Services at (213) 763-3773 or go to E-110 as soon as possible to better ensure such accommodations are implemented in a timely fashion.

Weekly Schedule of Topics:

The topics covered, calendar, and grading are subject to change to meet the needs of students in the course. Announcements will be made in class and students will be advised of changes as they occur. Students are responsible for adjusting their calendar.

1. Read your workbook and take notes. Also, use your highlighter to emphasize important rules, notes, or information.
2. Complete each four-page lesson one at a time. Ask the instructor for help with any problems you have.
3. With a red pen, use the Answer Key in the back to correct your answers after each exercise.
4. At the top of the page, with your red pen, write your score as a fraction (number correct over total number), then divide the denominator into the numerator to get the percentage. Circle your percentage. Grades are as follows: A = 100%-90%, B = 89%-80%, C = 79%-70%, D = 69%-60%, F = 59% and under.
5. When you meet with your instructor, bring your PLATO printout and have your bookwork corrected. You may use the boxes below to check off items as you complete them. Your instructor will check off, initial and date the Lab Assignment Procedures form.

The Writing Process

A process is a series of steps that are done in order to make or do something. The five steps in the Writing Process will help to improve your writing.

Step 1: Prewriting

This step is for generating ideas. This is the step for brainstorming ideas about the characters, setting, problem, and solution. For research papers, this step is for gathering the information about your topic from several different sources. Take notes, but be sure to use your own words or use quotation marks.

Step 2: Drafting

This step is your first attempt at writing. Some like to call it their "sloppy copy." Write your ideas in complete sentences. Group sentences on the same topic into paragraphs. Skip lines in order to leave room for changes. Do not worry about spelling and grammar at this point.

Step 3: Revising

In this step the writer improves the first draft. Below are some ways to improve the writing. Add details to your writing. Add adjectives to describe your nouns throughout the story. Use a thesaurus to find some more interesting verbs to use. Add some figurative language to make it more interesting. Make sure you have grouped similar sentences into a paragraph. Check for a logical sequence and flow to your writing.

Step 4: Editing

This step is for correcting mistakes in your writing. Be sure to check for the following things. Circle any words that might be misspelled and look them up in a dictionary. Check for punctuation marks at the end of each complete thought. Be sure there is a capital letter at the beginning of each sentence. Make sure that your subjects and verbs agree. Check for any incorrect use of grammar.

Step 5: Publishing

The last step is to publish your work. Write as neatly as possible or type it out. Be sure to use proper margins. Do not skip lines. Remember to make the changes from the Revising and Editing steps. You may also want to illustrate your story or make a multimedia presentation. The instructor reserves the right to revise the syllabus as needed. Students are responsible for adjusting their calendar. An amended syllabus will be sent to all students electronically.

LEARNING SKILLS LAB DAILY SCHEDULE

Learning Skills Computer Lab Hours:

Fall & Spring: Monday-Thursday 8:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m., Friday 8:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m., Saturday 9:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
 Winter & Summer: Monday – Thursday 8:00 a.m.-4 p.m., Friday 8:00 a.m.-2 p.m.

Directions:

Write the following abbreviations in the block of time that you will dedicate to each component of your Learning Skills class. You may also use this schedule to manage your other classes, travel and study time.

- "LS Lab" and the section number for the Computer Lab component of your class.
- "IRL" and the section number for the time you will spend in the Instructional Resources Lab.
- "I" in the block of time that you will meet with each instructor. You must meet with each of your instructors at least once a week (you can always meet with them more, but at least once a week).
- After you and your instructor sign this schedule, a student worker will make a copy for you. The original will go in your folder.

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday

4 p.m. to 5 p.m.
5 p.m. to 6 p.m.
6 p.m. to 7 p.m.
7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Your Commitment:

I make a commitment to come to class and spend time working on my assignments in the Learning Skills Lab, Instructional Resources Lab (IRL), and/or online. I will also meet with my instructor(s) and turn in a progress report (if applicable) on a weekly basis. I have completed the schedule above to demonstrate my dedication to completing all of the requirements, including attendance, to pass this course.

LEARNING SKILLS CONTACT LIST

Peer Contact List:

It is strongly recommended that students get the phone numbers of two other students in the class in case of absences. For this class, you should get a "study buddy." Find someone in the class who cares as much about doing well in the class as you do. Make a habit of getting together to do your homework, or talking about the homework on the phone. School can be so much more interesting when you have a friend with whom you can work together. When you are absent, call your study buddy to find out what you missed. Keep this top portion for your own records.
